

THE LINCOLN FORUM BOOK PRIZE

The Lincoln Forum is now accepting submissions for its annual book prize. To honor outstanding scholarship on the life and career of our nation's sixteenth president, The Lincoln Forum offers an annual book prize of $1,000 for a distinguished book published on Abraham Lincoln in which he is a central figure. The book prize will be presented at the yearly symposium of the Lincoln Forum, held on November 16-18, 2020 in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

General rules of submissions are:

- 1) Biographies, monographs, works of synthesis and interpretation, edited collections of original papers, and documentary editing projects, published in the English language, are eligible.
- 2) Only books published during the period between February 2019 through April 2020 will be considered.
- 3) One printed copy of each entry, along with a cover letter nominating the work for the award, must be sent to each committee member and clearly labeled "Lincoln Forum Book Prize Entry," no later than May 1, 2020. Entries will not be returned.

Names/contact information of committee members:

Thomas A. Horrocks, Ph.D.
11A Brewer Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
thomasahorrocks@gmail.com

Michelle Krowl, Ph.D.
129 S. Park Drive
Arlington, VA 22204
mkrowl@aol.com

Christian McWhirter, Ph.D.
1324 Community Drive
Springfield, IL 62703
christianmcwhirter.ala@gmail.com

Daniel R. Weinberg
Abraham Lincoln Book Shop, Inc.
824 W. Superior Street, Suite 100
Chicago, IL 60642
lincolnian@aol.com

The winner of the book prize will be announced by The Lincoln Forum at its annual symposium and via its website, and other social media and other news outlets. The winner will be invited to present a paper at the Forum symposium, with expenses paid that cover travel, hotel accommodations, and symposium registration.